

Evolution and the Revelation
the method of seed planting and expansion

How did Humanity evolve and Societies expand

Presentation by Rita Schaad at the annual conference in Sydney 2023

It has become the custom over recent years to give recognition at such gatherings, to the first inhabitants of this vast continent – but at the start of this talk, I'd like to give homage to the Life Carriers who embarked on this adventure on the outskirts of the Nebadon Nebulae, to experiment with certain patterns and templates in the hope to bring forth reflective mortals of survival value on this planet. And along with these high beings I give much utmost respect for those many unseen helpers - high and low – who gave service in this endeavour for eons – and still do!

I look very much forward to the time when I can see them face to face and listen to their recital and own version of the Genesis-story of Planet Urantia.

EVOLUTION

...The history of the human race is one of progressive evolution...75:8.2 (846.1)

Yes indeed – but what an unfolding this has been – and still is in some measure. It is indeed a very gripping tale I have found exciting for a long time.

I mean – who has not asked “where do we really come from” - as a humanity, and apart from The Urantia Book, answers have been popping up all over the place in the last century and specially in the last decades. The unearthing of some ancient fossils and artefact make big news all around the globe.

When talking about Evolution one should start at the beginning!

550 million years ago - there were three simultaneous marine life implantations by the Life Carriers of Nebadon, in a central, a western and a eastern area of Pangaea.

At this point I'd like to refer you for more study on this subject to Robert's extensive Evolutionary Timeline, which he presented at our conference in 2012. You find it on our website.

<https://anzura.urantia-association.org/2012/09/14/evolutionary-timeline/>

Primates

Later in the evolutionary unfolding of intelligence, the lemur ancestors of the human species were far more advanced in North America than in other regions; and they were therefore led to migrate from the arena of western life implantation over the Bering land bridge and down the coast to south-western Asia, where they continued to evolve and to benefit by the addition of certain strains of the central life group. Man thus evolved out of certain western and central life strains but in the central to near-eastern regions. (emphasis mine) 62:2.15 (733.5)

- There were 3 sudden mutations (703.0) from Lemur types of placental mammals.
- Dominant factors come from life plasm evolved in the American and the Central life implantation in Africa. (2 out of three life implantations by the Life Carriers were therefore successful)

The Time line of dawn Mammals to Primates is 900 Generations, this is 22'500 yrs (707.5) when we assume a generation to be 20-25yrs.

From era to era radically new species of animal life arise. They do not evolve as the result of the gradual accumulation of small variations; they appear as full-fledged and new orders of life, and they appear suddenly. 58:6.3 (669.4)

The sudden appearance of new species and diversified orders of living organisms is wholly biologic, strictly natural. There is nothing supernatural connected with these genetic mutations. 58:6.4 (669.5)

So we have the Placental Mammals who gave rise to the Dawn mammals

- and the Dawn mammals gave rise to the Mid mammals after 70 Generations (1750 yr); which roamed and expanded freely over 15thousand years in the region of Mesopotamia.
- then the Mid mammals gave rise to the Primates after 600 Generations (12500 yrs)
- after a further sudden mutation after 230 Generations (5750 yr)resulted in the appearance of the first humans.

For some images see:

<https://www.theguardian.com/environment/gallery/2013/may/16/world-most-comprehensive-guide-primates-in-pictures>

The entire growth from animal to primate and human has also been observed by our scientists, probably not with quite the time line we have been given in The Urantia Book. The changes in their bodies have been noted by measured the length of it, by the sizes of their heads, their standing and walking upright and their thumbs being offset. Another indicator was their attempt to communicate by sounds, signs and symbols and this had markedly differentiated them from the unprogressive strains.

Primitive Man on Earth

In this way the life that was planted on Urantia evolved until the ice age, when man himself first appeared and began his eventful planetary career. And this appearance of primitive man on earth during the ice age was not just an accident; it was by design. The rigors and climatic severity of the glacial era were in every way adapted to the purpose of fostering the production of a hardy type of human being with tremendous survival endowment. (emphasis mine) 65:2.16 (733.6)

You could wonder now, if the rigors of the climatic changes today are once again fostering an increased adaption of the human race needed to survive into the next millenia.

FIRST HUMANS

Andon and Fonta

(62:707.5)

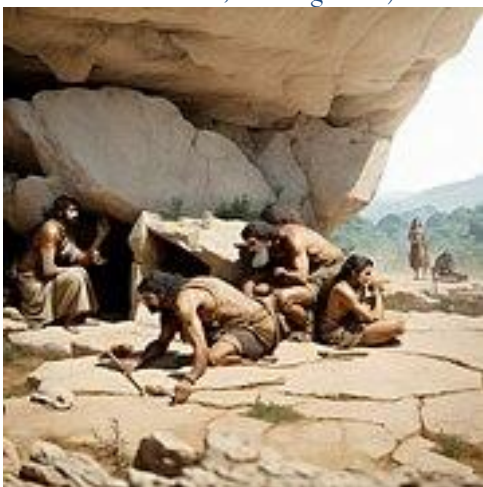

Not quite 1 Million years ago, the ‘twins’ were born and started on their earthly journey. Their birthplace was in the area which is today’s Afghanistan in the Indian Highlands. Soon after, when they were about 10 years old, our planet was registered as an inhabited world.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Atlas_of_Xinjiang

These first human beings (and their descendants) reached full maturity at twelve years of age and possessed a potential life span of about seventy-five years. 62:5.3 (708.1)

(Wikimedia commons, stone age man)

It was our intention to produce an early manifestation of will in the evolutionary life of Urantia, and we succeeded. Ordinarily, will does not emerge until the colored races have long been in existence, usually first appearing among the superior types of the red man. Your world is the only planet in Satania where the human type of will has appeared in a precolored race. (Emphasis mine) 65:4.11 (736.2)

Andon and Fonta's immediate family consisted of 19 children, 50 Grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren and displayed a clannish spirit, staying close to their rock and cave sheltered homes.

They seemed to realize that they were an isolated and unique group of living beings and should therefore avoid becoming separated. This feeling of intimate kinship was undoubtedly due to the enhanced mind ministry of the adjutant spirits. 63:3.3 (713.3)

Did you know that Andon discovered how to make fire 'by accident' and that the language they devised amongst themselves (708.6) was to become the tongue of Urantia till the times of the coloured races. (63:4.6)

Unfortunately they both died when only 42 years during an earthquake when an overhanging rock fell on them, as well as on 5 of their children and 11 grandchildren. Their first born, Sontad took over the leadership.

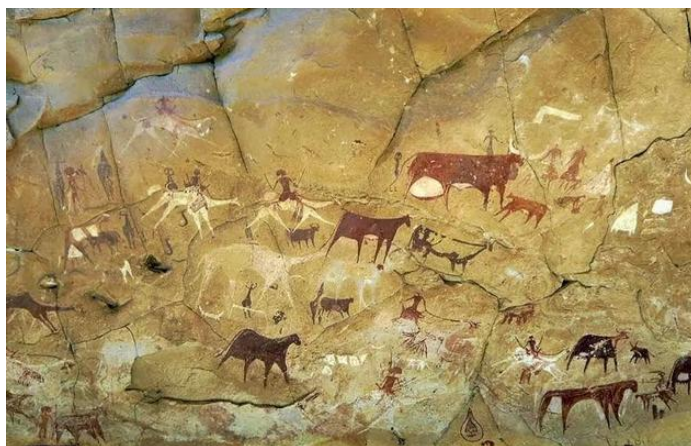

Dispersion and Clan building

Early Andonic races did not penetrate far into Asia, but their first home sites were in the region of the Altai mountains, which is a most beautiful region even today. Just think, that our earliest ancestors wandered around in such surrounds, day after day, improving their shelters, catching fish and collecting foodstuff and raising their young .

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Altai_Mountains

As we learn these Andonites quickly advanced in skills over the next 10'000 years, invented the stone ax, (63:5.6) the throwing stick and harpoon and were splendid flint tool makers.

They build 'sleeping chambers' in their rock caves to keep them safe at night. As the clans grew the frictions and misunderstandings resulted in serious feuds, where the 'best and most valuable strains' were lost (63:4.4).

The Andonic clan held together for 20 generations (500 yrs) before dispersion. (63:3.6) and had an unbroken line of leadership for 27 generations (675yrs)

Google Earth image – Caspian Sea

After 10 000years of migration, the spiritual status of the clans had retrogressed until Onagar, the first teacher of Truth appeared, living at a settlement on their route of migration in Oban, near the Caspian sea, he taught the first prayer .

“O Breath of Life, give us this day our daily food, deliver us from the curse of the ice, save us from our forest enemies, and with mercy receive us into the Great Beyond.” 63:6.6 (716.5)

Apart from being in ‘today’s phraseology’ - the intent and personal connection to this perceived high spirit is astounding, don’t you think? Ok 10 000 years is a long time in our reckoning, but we’re talking about 990 000 years ago.

Doesn’t it make you wonder what this person was thinking, pondering - roaming around in these pristine and at times harsh surroundings and sleeping in rocky caves?

For the expanding family of Andon and Fonta to produce a leader, a teacher, ‘ a spiritual visionary ‘ only after 10 thousand years - 400 Generations - is remarkable progress in using the combined powers of the adjudant mind spirits and the divine Monitor within.

Then going westward, dodging the advancing Ice of the third Glacier, they reached the valleys of the Somme River, France – and the eastern shores of the British isles (which we know as the Foxhall peoples 64.2.1), settling along the rivers , establishing more than 1000 settlements. Just imagine this!

950,000 years ago the descendants of Andon and Fonta had migrated far to the east and to the west. To the west they passed over Europe to France and England. In later times they penetrated eastward as far as Java, where their bones were so recently found — the so-called Java man — and then journeyed on to Tasmania. (emphasis mine) 64:1.6 (719.1)

<https://www.britannica.com/topic/Java-man>

Abri Castanet, France. Père Igor/Wikimedia Commons/(CC BY-SA 3.0)

<https://www.thoughtco.com/upper-paleolithic-sites-in-europe-173080>

850 000 years ago there was a racial struggle within the Andonic Badonan tribes in the Siwalik Hills of northern India at the foot of the Himalayas, that lasted nearly a 1000 years – a campaign for the extermination - of their inferior animalistic neighbors, resulting in an improved race – the Neanderthals. (64:3)

Sounds terribly vicious, but isn't it intriguing for these people to have understanding at the time, to do a 'cultural cleansing' in order to keep their integrity or 'gene-pool' in order.

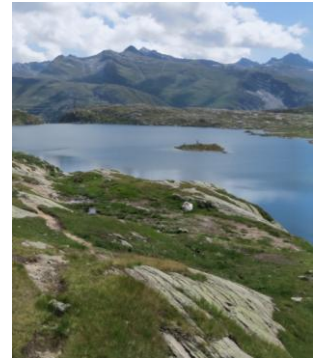

Unfortunately that notion of a 'pure race' is still with us isn't it and these days it is impossible to untangle the blending of race and colour.

(722.5) by 500 000 y/a –another relentless struggle ensued amongst the same peoples that had fought the great battle some 350 thousand years previous. This time it lasted more than 100 years. Those remaining were then the most intelligent and desirable of living descendants of Andon and Fonta. After that a new race suddenly appeared – the Sangiks or Coloured Races . (64:5)

Expansion of Society

Initially these Sangik types were very intelligent and had “a unique tendency to turn various colours when exposed to sunlight “. For a good 100 thousand years these tribes were held back by the 5th expanding glacier, some of them living near the HQ of the Planetary Prince.

But eventually intense struggles between them made them take up the opportunity to pass along new land bridges and mountain passages to migrate east, south and west and in so doing creating their own tribes, clans - societies.

And isn't it so when undisturbed, a specific trait can develop into a more pronounced characteristic. We can see that in both the yellow and the red race which did not have a lot of contact with others over a more extended period.

But then they say: diversity is the point, the main purpose, to maximise the total possible expressions of the Infinite. Yes blending will be the eventual result, but the journey of diversity is just as important as the destination

And these groups of the differentiated peoples and races have managed to spread over and explore the entire globe, settling in the best places to survive as clans, adapting to their environments and creating standards and customs to give structure throughout the yearly cycle.

TIMES OF DALAMATIA

“While there is a divine and ideal form of government, such cannot be revealed but must be slowly and laboriously discovered by the men and women of each planet throughout the universes of time and space.” 70:12.20 (799.1)

The planned intervention by our celestial overseers into our affairs with the Dalamatian teachers, enabled all peoples and races for the next 300 000 years to build upon their self acquired knowledge and to experience better ways to approach living individually and as budding societies. And of course they learned of the Father in heaven and were encouraged to be immersed in spiritual learning and practises. This event also provided a planetary history that became a myth to sustain humanity for the next few millennia's.

How empty would our lives be without a myth – a story, if we could not look back upon times past?
Do you think we could plan forwards and launch our arrows into the unknown?
To know what happened before is such a gift - that is why I /we treasure this Revelation so much!

The big puzzle I marvel at is, that from all over the globe, where these Andonites and their coloured cousins lingered, people were drawn to this amazing new place on the now Persian gulf to live and participate within its walls.

The revelators tell us vaguely about how the first initial group of Andonites were ‘led’ (just like the lemurs?) to the gates of the new city by their Thought Adjusters, but despite that, I do wonder about all the practicalities of this, the huge journeys of these peoples, the reasons they thought they had in their minds to venture on such a big trip, the responses of their tribes when they up and left etc. or did they just casually pass by, - or did they dream about it?? How many women were amongst them – how were they matched up with each of the 100 staff of Caligastia? How did the transfer of the vital plasm occur...? Alas we are not told....

In Dalamatia – the first Moral Law was presented consisting of 7 commands. They were taught and memorized daily. The visitors to the City had their first spiritual guidance.(751.3)

Weaving and spinning

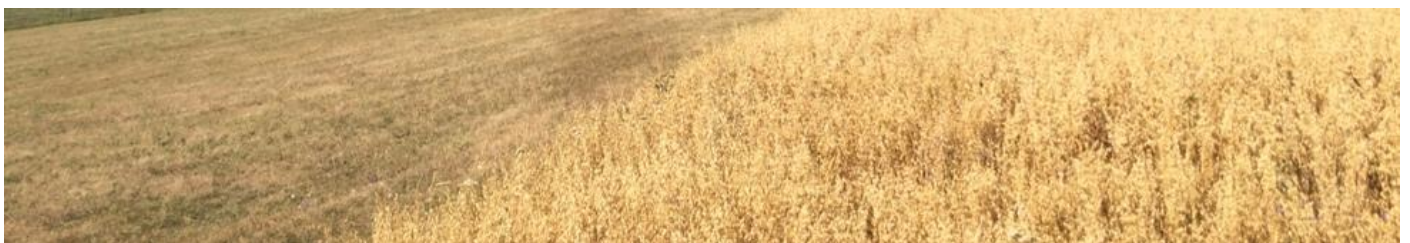

Wool and hand spindle

carved Wooden hand Spindle

Ten councils were organised where everything was taught and practised from Material welfare, to gathering and the preserving of knowledge, from agriculture and animal husbandry, industry and trade to homemaking as well as health and the regulations and governance of Tribal relations. And from there, these people spread out once more and took with them skills and knowledge and a new understanding of their Spiritual heritage back to their tribes and clans. That was a good half a million years ago, lasting over a further 300 000 years. Just enormous!

growing grains

animal husbandry

Our historians and archaeologists explore what happened in the last 10'000 years and are nonplussed when they find records and artefacts, buildings and what looks like organised city states of an intelligent people.

(Wikimedia commons) milking a cow

making bread

The Nodite/Andonite Race that partially maintained some of that knowledge after the Rebellion were in fact a new amalgamated race, they would have lost the crudeness of the Neanderthal appearance somewhat. It is said somewhere, that the Nodites/or Nephilim were charmed by the beauty of 'the daughters of men' and mated with them – amongst other reasons to do so .. ☺

<https://squarecircles.com/the-human-race/> - Study Aid about human races

From this time onwards each of the coloured races produced a spiritual Leader. They appeared at some time when all the spiritual gains made before were in danger of being lost. And surely, this type of 'seed planting' has made it an impact for those races to persist a bit longer and stronger, having a focus of a higher goal, while crafting their unique culture and religions.

Overview of the Coloured Races and their spiritual leaders: (64:6)

-First Spiritual Leader amongst the Urantian Indigenous people, the Andonites, was a man called Onagar, around 990 000 years ago . He taught and led the worship of the Breath-giver.

-350 000 years ago – during the Dalamatia civilisation - Fantad led a revival of culture within the green group, no doubt he was inspired by the teachers in Dalamatia, he must have spend some time there.

-300 000 - 100 000years ago the Orange men were taught at the Armageddon HQ (today's Megiddo in Galilee) by Porshunta .

- to the Indigo peoples, Orvonon proclaims 'God of Gods' .

199 500 years ago, shortly after the Rebellion unsettled everyone and everything, Orlandof taught the blue man about the 'Supreme Chief' .

100 000 years ago – Singlanton preached 'the One Truth' to the yellow peoples.

65 000 years ago – Onamonolonton was a chief amongst the red peoples in the Americas and led them in the worship of the 'Great Spirit' .

After that of course we hear about many more leaders and prophets , among them of course – Adam and Eve, Adamson , Amosad (15 000 y/a – regeneration of the Sethite priesthood) Mansant, Melchizedek, Moses, Ikhnaton - the Hebrew Prophets and other teachers of religion, truth and wisdom right up to the bestowal of the Master - and then on again to the present times.

GARDEN OF EDEN

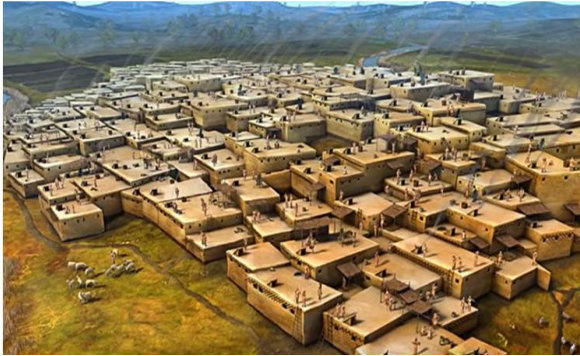

By the time the Edenic Garden was built much of that first glorious civilisation was forgotten and the world suffered in cultural decadence and spiritual poverty once more.

All had to be revived, re-told and re-practised by Adam and Eve and their family some 37'000 years ago.

The oldest legacy of that time would be the sites found in the area of Lake Van – the societies build and maintained first by Van and Amadon 200 000y/a and then by Adamson and Ratta and their descendants some 35 000 years ago (77:5)

The earliest remnants only recently discovered of those early civilisations are in the South-eastern Anatolia Region of Türkiye. Gobekli Tepe and Chatal Huyuk are examples of these ancient finds.

But – these places are dated much more recent, placed in the Neolithic area – ca 10 000 BC – where people became farmers and herders, made pottery and tools of sorts – while we are told that Andon made his stone axe nearly a million years ago and his flint work was beyond reproach for ages to come. And we also know that the Dalamatia and Adamic peoples studied science, art and agriculture and worshiped in the Temple of the One God of heaven and earth. Visitors and students would then take these new skills back to their tribes - all happening over 100s of thousands of years.

Just as a comparison – the latest find of a stone ax is the closest our archeologists have been able to unearth.

<https://www.australiangeographic.com.au/news/2010/11/35000-year-old-stone-axe-found-in-australia/>

Andonites and their tools

It's just amazing to imagine what these early humans have done, how they spent each day and found ways to survive under mostly difficult circumstances.

Can we ever compare to the stamina and heroism they have brought to the tasks – we are truly standing on the shoulders of our ancestors and should remind others and ourselves of this . It will afford us a wider view of humanity and a sense that we are still evolving towards something greater, understanding maybe just a little better, the 'man-made' upheavals we are still experiencing.

Then we read about the Andite dispersion bringing civilization to east and west

From the second Garden between the Rivers, these tribes once again spread out in all directions partly also because the ice sheets had finally retreated further north and new lands had opened up.

A surprising and interesting thing for them must have been, when entering today's Indian continent from the north-west, there finding the most multi racial and cultural society existing at that time. It was the Sethite Group from Adams family, the priests and 'High-minded and noble teachers of health and religion' (850.6) that brought methods of education and health provisions to this sub continent around 8000 years ago and more of certain teachings from the second Garden, which have never been surpassed since.

As early as 16,000 B.C. a company of one hundred Sethite priests entered India and very nearly achieved the religious conquest of the western half of that polyglot people. But their religion did not persist. Within five thousand years their doctrines of the Paradise Trinity had degenerated into the triune symbol of the fire god. 79:3.4 (881.4)

In India many types of social organizations flourished from time to time, from the semi-democratic systems of the Aryans to despotic and monarchical forms of government. But the most characteristic feature of society was the persistence of the great social castes that were instituted by the Aryans in an effort to perpetuate racial identity. This elaborate caste system has been preserved on down to the present time. 79:4.5 (882.5)

Of the four great castes, all but the first were established in the futile effort to prevent racial amalgamation of the Aryan conquerors with their inferior subjects. But the premier caste, the teacher-priests, stems from the Sethites; the Brahmans of the twentieth century after Christ are the lineal cultural descendants of the priests of the second garden, albeit their teachings differ greatly from those of their illustrious predecessors. 79:4.6 (882.6)

...This amalgamation led to the adoption of many new ideas; it facilitated the progress of civilization and greatly advanced all phases of art, science, and social culture. 78:3.4 (870.7)

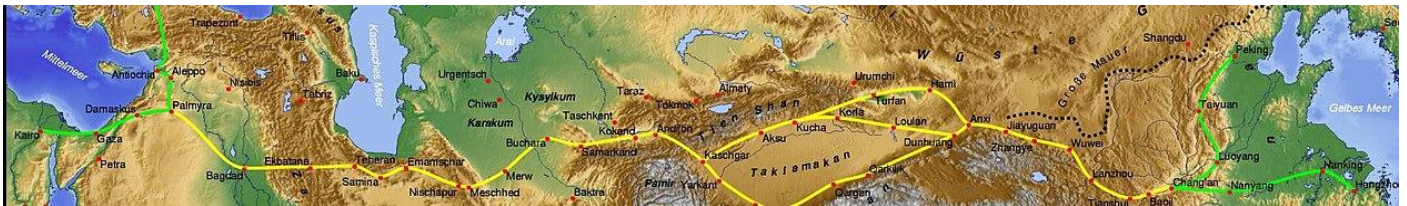

It was the Brahmans that have introduced the separation of the social classes - in order to keep their Sethite heritage pure, and in doing so have created the cast system which persists in some measure even today.

Sanskrit treatise

For twenty thousand years the culture of the second garden persisted, but it experienced a steady decline until about 15,000 B.C., when the regeneration of the Sethite priesthood and the leadership of Amosad inaugurated a brilliant era. The massive waves of civilization which later spread over Eurasia immediately followed the great renaissance of the Garden consequent upon the extensive union of the Adamites with the surrounding mixed Nodites to form the Andites. 78:5.1 (872.5)

So it was the Andites that through their migration penetrated all the groups of people and cultures. All the people of the world have a common heritage! And it's the famous Silk Road which was the path these people took to traverse the lands.

The migratory conquests of the Andites continued on down to their final dispersions, from 8000 to 6000 B.C. As they poured out of Mesopotamia, they continuously depleted the biologic reserves of their homelands while markedly strengthening the surrounding peoples. And to every nation to which they journeyed, they contributed humour, art, adventure, music, and manufacture. They were skilful domesticators of animals and expert agriculturists. For the time being, at least, their presence usually improved the religious beliefs and moral practices of the older races. And so the culture of Mesopotamia quietly spread out over Europe, India, China, northern Africa, and the Pacific Islands. (emphasis mine) 78:5.8 (873.4)

(875.5) 78:8.1 When the last Andite dispersion broke the biologic backbone of Mesopotamian civilization, a small minority of this superior race remained in their homeland near the mouths of the rivers. These were the Sumerians, and by 6000 B.C. they had become largely Andite in extraction, though their culture was more exclusively Nodite in character, and they clung to the ancient traditions of Dalamatia. Nonetheless, these Sumerians of the coastal regions were the last of the Andites in Mesopotamia. But the races of Mesopotamia were already thoroughly blended by this late date, as is evidenced by the skull types found in the graves of this era. 78:8.1 (875.5)

Now the last remnants of Andite/Nodite ‘blood’ were to be found 6000 BCE in the Sumerian civilization, and this is the group we start to know more and more about these days. The finding of thousands of clay tablets and the ingenious effort and success to decipher them brings alive the story of a few thousand years of clan life, leadership woes and nation building efforts. We even find on there names of people, their status, role and aspirations within their culture.

There is a YouTube channel where each ancient historic stage and city state is separately dealt with (history with Cy - <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCZzqG2zfeRKMojwDwk1FTvQ>) the knowledge about these days comes from the clay tablets and inscription on stone (Egypt) and is presented with some witty animation. I enjoy watching them and think – ah the Akkadians and Babylonians – all from Andite extraction; the Greeks – first Adamite migration, the Hittites – maybe from the Vanite civilization or Adamson and Ratta’s families.

And all of them wanting to be overlords and are fighting for land and glory!

Just think, another medium instead of clay tablets hidden under the preserving sands would not have yielded such wealth of past historical information and there is more to come from these treasures.

But compared with what archeologists and other scientists are prepare to accept, the timeframe given by The Urantia Book is much vaster, and what many term to be myth and folklore has actually a very firm and true core. Divinity has dwelt amongst us, ‘extra terrestrials’ have mated with an indigenous race and the God of heaven is everything people have conceived this great entity to be – and much more.

And so – on it goes, our evolution and the one of our planet itself, is still progressing and peoples of today venture ever deeper into the mysteries and find ever more answers to their quests. People who search for truth are able to adjust their views of reality through new findings in the sciences of matter, mind and even spirit.

And for us this means, that we can share much of the Revelation by way of adding bits of information that expands a historic story or fact a bit more and might spark a new interest in the listener to open their mind for unheard of information.

The Act is ours –the consequences will be ‘activated’ by the Spirit of the Gods.