

Year 2001 Australian URANTIA Book Readers Conference Hosted and organised by the Sydney Study Group and sponsored by ANZURA

Organising the Soul for Dynamic Service

We are ascenders moving forward from last year's conference in Canberra, putting into action the big picture lessons of revelation.

Our theme for the conference will take a two pronged approach to explore the day-to-day ways we can bring an awareness of the revelation to the world.

The first prong will look at how you, an individual believer, can begin to "organise your soul for dynamic service." What was Jesus' secret? We know living his teachings will bring changes are you ready to embrace change?

The second prong will focus on the avenues of service available to you—from the eloquent demonstration of living faith of the individual, to dynamic service of a faith-son or daughter functioning within a group—cooperating in a team.

We'll do this through presentations, workshops, study and brainstorming. A wonderful opportunity to recharge those spiritual batteries, in the company of friends, in beautiful surroundings. If past experience is a measure future promise, this conference will flow with an abundance of good cheer in this first millenium year.

Conference dates

Those of us who will be arriving on Friday 5 October will assemble at Sydney Lakeside Narrabeen, Lake Park Road, North Narrabeen NSW (02) 9913 7845, between 4pm and 6pm.

We will have dinner that night at a local restaurant. We have not included this meal in the conference fees, so those joining us will cover the cost of Friday evening's meal themselves.

Full conference fees cover accommodation on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights and all meals from Saturday breakfast to breakfast Monday 9 October.

(Day rates are available. See details on next panel.)

The venue—Sydney Lakeside Narrabeen

This beautiful resort sits like a jewel in natural environment of the world famous northern beaches of Sydney.
